"It wasn't very fun growing up with this name," John Hancock, 49, of Manhattan, told ABC News
While tranquilizing drugs may be the drugs of choice at many institutions, these drugs can further confusion and increase the risk of falls
Your personal helpful publication indicates so much a person like me and a whole lot more to my office workers